Finding Your College

Your search for the college that's right for you starts here.

Dear Students and Families:

College is a big decision. In this guide, we would like to share with you the great opportunities private, not-for-profit colleges and universities in New York State have to offer you.

As president of the state's association of 100+ private independent colleges and universities, my travels take me to every corner of New York where I have visited colleges and spoke with the colleges' staff and students. I have discovered that the campuses are vibrant, caring – transforming – places that teach students to be successful learners; places that are supportive of their communities; places that bolster their local economies and contribute to new ideas and innovations; and places that can enrich lives.

As you begin to investigate your options, you will find that "diverse" best describes our campuses. Our colleges and universities each have unique community, academic focus, and atmosphere. They are all special places where students may express their unique talents and goals and opportunities abound to explore interests and talents – from study abroad to internships, to participation in clubs, sports and special interest groups.

Paying for college in these times is a major concern, but please keep in mind that the colleges, the state and the federal government have many programs – grants, scholarships, and low interest loans – to help families from all income levels afford a quality education at an independent college and university.

A college education is a significant investment – of your savings and your time – but the intellectual and practical rewards will be priceless to you, to your communities and to society. In fact, college graduates earn more over their lifetimes – 84 percent more – than people without degrees. Beyond the economic benefits, higher education prepares you to be responsible citizens and to engage with the world around you. On the whole, college graduates volunteer more, vote more often, and participate more in their communities.

It is my hope that you will use this guide, Your College Search, and our website, www.nycolleges.org, to help you as you explore your options and discover the college that may be right for you.

Best wishes,

How to Begin Your College Search

There are many things to consider as you look at different colleges: academic programs, the quality of the college, the sense of community and campus life, geographic location, and, of course, college costs and financial aid.

This booklet will guide you through the college selection process, providing the information to get you started.

So where do you begin your college search?

Finding, evaluating, and choosing a college requires thought, planning, and information. Keep an open mind. You'll discover a college that suits you.

- If you have an idea about what you want to study, go to the Academic Programs, pages 31-60, where you'll find bachelor's and associate degree programs offered at private colleges and universities in New York State. The information is also available online at www.nycolleges.org.
- Use the College Search Worksheet on page 3 to compile a list of colleges that match your interests. Find out more about them. The Campus Locator Map (pages 4-7) will help you see where the campuses are located in the state while the Campus Profiles section (pages 14-30) will give you basic information about the colleges on your list.
- Attend college fairs. You can meet and talk with college representatives and pick up brochures.
- If you are able, visit colleges that interest you. Before you visit, make an appointment to meet with faculty in areas that match your academic interests. While you're there, take the official tour, then walk around and talk with students.

- Early on, begin to investigate sources of financial aid. Refer to pages 8-11 in this guide for ways to get started.
- By fall of your senior year, shorten your college list to between five and eight choices.
- If possible, talk with current students or graduates of the colleges on your "short list."
- Obtain admission and financial aid forms. Fill out the forms carefully and be sure to meet all deadlines.

These steps will get you started. Finding the right college may seem challenging, but the time you put into the process will help you find the college that fits your needs. To receive more information about any college in this booklet, write or call the colleges directly.

Exceptional quality, diverse academic offerings, and personal attention are attracting record numbers of students to the state's private independent colleges and universities. In Fall 2012, more than 491,000 students were studying at independent colleges and universities in the state. Approximately 53% of the students who are studying for a 4-year or graduate degree in New York State are enrolled at an independent college or university.

New York's private independent colleges and universities offer students a wide range of educational settings. Of the 98 undergraduate independent institutions profiled in this guide, 48 independent colleges (49%) enroll 2,000 or fewer students; 31 serve between 2,001 and 5,000; 19 educate more than 5,000.

See page 2 for more tips on what to look for in a college and what a college looks for in its students.

What to Look for in a College

What a college looks for in its students.

When you're searching for the right college, there are at least two things to consider: what you want in a college, and what the college is looking for in its applicants.

By starting early, you'll have time to make the best match. Think about your strengths, and the qualities you will bring to the college.

Here are some qualities colleges often look for in their applicants:

- Academic preparation
- Challenging coursework
- Good grades in a range of courses
- Ranking among high school peers, including senior year ranking
- SAT or ACT scores (optional at many colleges – check with the college)
- Extracurricular activities (commitment, rather than quantity, is the key)
- Recommendations from teachers and others
- Written self-expression, often judged by your application essay or other writing sample
- Verbal expression and presentation
- Leadership ability and positions
- Level of interest in and enthusiasm for the college

Colleges are as individual as people – each one has a distinct “personality” and unique campus environment. The private colleges and universities found in every region of New York State offer you some wonderful choices. Your options run the gamut from large to small; from urban to rural settings and nearly every conceivable program. You'll certainly find quality and value among the colleges.

Quality. Value. They're important concepts, but what do they mean in practical terms?

Quality.

The quality of your college degree will matter to you and your learning experience, and it will matter in the job market. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in 2013* the unemployment rate for wage earners was approximately double (7.5%) for individuals with only a high school diploma compared to individuals with a bachelor's degree (3.7%). Because the college you choose will help shape your future, you will want to choose carefully.

While New York's private colleges and universities each offer different programs and features, you'll find dedicated, world-class faculty, low student-to-faculty ratios and myriad opportunities for intensive, experiential study.

When you begin to consider which college to attend, look carefully at these features:

- Academic departments
- Class size
- Student-to-faculty ratios
- Faculty
- Opportunity for activities outside the classroom
- Teaching that inspires critical thinking
- For certain academic majors, look for research opportunities, internship programs or study abroad
- Internship and career placement services
- Campus setting and surrounding area
- Campus life such as options for residence halls, Greek life, other types of housing, dining plans

Value.

When you choose your college, think about the kind of learning environment you want, and the value of your future degree. At New York's private colleges and universities, you'll benefit from your contacts with well-known faculty and alumni; you'll have opportunities to gain real-life experience; and you'll enjoy the pleasure of forming personal relationships with professors who come to know you, your interests and your talents.

One more thing: never exclude colleges because of the “sticker price.” While the overall tuition or “sticker price” of an independent college or university is higher than a state college, independent colleges and universities are prepared to help families meet college costs through grants, scholarships and other aid. In fact, almost 90 percent of full-time students at independent colleges and universities receive one or more types of financial aid to make their enrollment possible. You may be surprised at how much financial aid is available and, with aid packages, find that private colleges are no more expensive – and sometimes less costly – than state colleges.

A College Search Worksheet

As you begin to think about college, collect information, look at college literature, visit campuses, and research financial aid. Use this worksheet to guide and record your college search.

1. List 3 subjects that interest you.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

2. Do you want a 2- or 4-year degree?

3. What do you want to study? Match your answers from Questions 1 and 2. Using the list of Associate and Bachelor's degree programs on pages 31 to 60 in this guide or online at www.nycolleges.org/find-your-major, list 8 of the colleges and universities that offer the programs that interest you.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____

4. Gather information on your college choices. Look at the Campus Profiles on pages 14-30, then "tour" the colleges' websites and send for viewbooks and catalogues. For more college contact information, see the Campus Locator Map on pages 4-7, or visit www.nycolleges.org.

5. Now, decide what's important to you.

- Distance from home?
 - A short drive
 - A day's drive
 - More than a day's drive
- Campus size?
 - Small (fewer than 2,000 students)
 - Medium (up to 5,000 students)
 - Large (more than 5,000)
- Campus location?
 - Urban Suburban Rural

• Type of college?

- Coed
- Single-sex college
- Specific religious affiliation
- Not important

• Sports? Activities?

- Important (which ones?) _____
- _____
- Not important

Keep track of what you've learned by filling in the table below with the colleges you listed in Question 3.

6. Visit as many colleges and universities as you can to get a sense of the campus atmosphere. Does it feel right? Talk with students who are attending the colleges now or who recently graduated. Begin to shorten your list.

7. Collect admission and financial aid applications. Many colleges and universities make their applications available for download from their websites. Admission and financial aid applications for many institutions are also accessible for online completion. Keep your school guidance counselor informed of the colleges that interest you.

8. It's a good idea to apply to a mix of colleges based on your choices here, your personal profile, and the colleges' admission criteria. (Remember: Every college is different – with different admission requirements and deadlines.)

9. Apply. Watch the deadlines!

Table for Question 5

Information to keep on hand.

- Make a file for each college that interests you. Include brochures plus important names, deadlines for admission and financial aid forms, and contact numbers.
- Many colleges require one or more letters of recommendation from teachers or other key adults. Make a list of people you could ask to write references for you.

Give them direction and enough time to write the letters. Remember to thank them.

- To make answering application questions easier, keep a record of your awards or achievements, standardized test information and scores. Keep track of your work history and extracurricular and/or community activities with dates and locations, too.

Paying for College

Explore your financial aid options.

Talk with college admission and financial aid counselors to learn more about financial aid at specific colleges. Check your guidance or college office for scholarship announcements and use the Internet to visit the sites below. Pay careful attention to scholarship deadlines since some may be due before your college applications. Ask lots of questions and start your research early!

For an overview of the financial aid process and major aid programs, consult the free Affording College brochure at www.nycolleges.org/get-more-resources.

The Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) provides up to $5,165 a year in 2014-15 for eligible students from New York State who plan to attend a college or university in the state.

Nationally, full-time undergraduates at private, four-year colleges and universities receive, on average, an estimated $17,630 in grant aid from all sources and tax benefits.* In New York, each year, private not-for-profit colleges and universities provide more than $4.3 billion in financial aid to their students.

*Source: National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (NAICU). 9 Myths about Private Nonprofit Higher Education. Visit www.naicu.edu/special_initiatives/nine_myths/

When you've found the college you really want to attend, how do you pay for it?

Never give up on the college of your choice because you think you can't afford the "sticker price." Your first concern should be to apply to the colleges that fit your criteria for academics, distance, size, location, type, and campus life. You may be surprised at how affordable private colleges and universities can be. Just as there is diversity in college size, mission and academics, there is also a range of tuition levels. In New York, approximately 25% of private colleges and universities have average tuition and fees of under $25,000 while 20% are more than $40,000 per year.

Although your decision to go to college represents an important investment in yourself, as well as an investment of time and money, know that most students attending college receive some form of financial assistance. Private colleges and universities are committed to helping their admitted students and do their best to provide financial aid so that the price of college does not become the deciding factor in a student's college decision. In New York, in addition to state and federal aid, students attending private independent colleges and universities annually receive

$4.3 billion in grants and scholarships. The major sources of financial aid available to families include:

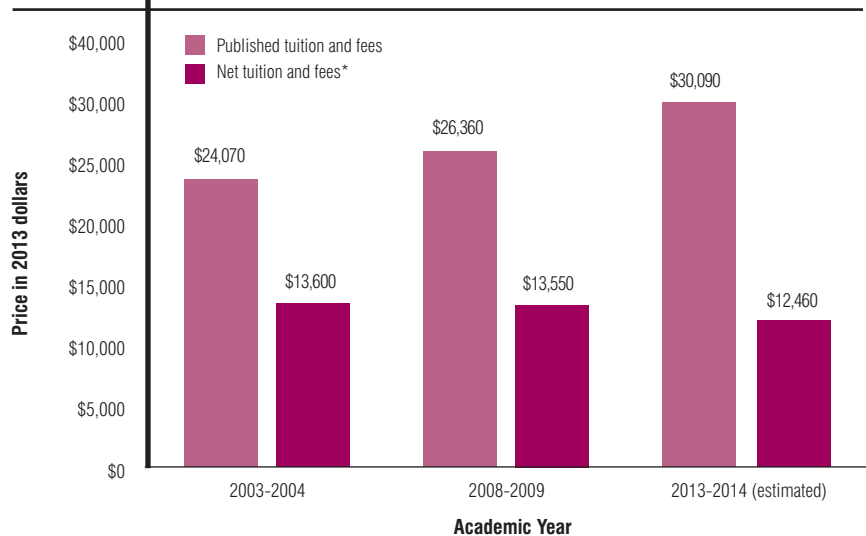

- grants and scholarships from colleges, and from federal and state governments;
- loans from the federal government;
- job programs on- or off-campus.

Typically, a student's financial aid package or award includes a combination of grants, scholarships, federally-guaranteed loans, and work-study. In addition, families should investigate other sources of aid such as:

- benefits offered by employers
- competitive scholarships from civic and religious organizations
- scholarships for study in specific academic subjects or toward certain professions
- tax deductions or credits for eligible educational expenses

The bottom line is this: money is available for your college education. Combining state and federal grants, scholarships, low-interest loans and private college and university scholarships gives most students the resources they need to attend their college choice. It's important to explore several colleges and weigh all your options carefully.

Most Students at Independent Institutions Pay Less than the Published Price

Source: College Board Trends in College Pricing 2013. Average Net Price, Figure 11. Data represent full-time undergraduate students attending four-year independent institutions only. Net tuition and fees are after grant aid and tax benefits are deducted from the published tuition and fees. Net prices for 2013-14 are estimated based on past years and available information about changes in financial aid and in constant 2013 dollars. Numbers have been rounded to the nearest 10s. *Net tuition and fees are calculated by subtracting estimated average grant aid plus tax benefits per full-time student in the sector from the published price.

Financial Aid Programs

Work-Study

Work-study programs provide opportunities to earn money while you're in college by working part time on campus or in the community.

Federal Work-Study Program (FWS):

Students usually work 10 to 15 hours per week during the academic year. Eligibility is based on financial need. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Job programs from private colleges and universities: Check with the college's financial aid office for on-campus job availability. Community service jobs are also available for work-study students.

Six Steps to Financial Aid

Visit www.nycolleges.org, New York's 100+ private colleges and universities' admissions and financial aid website.

Choosing where to go to college is an important decision! There will be many options to weigh and choices to make. When you begin considering which colleges to attend, never let "sticker price" stop you from looking at colleges that may be right for you. The key to paying for college is knowing what is available and how to apply for all possible help. Very few students actually pay the full cost of attendance. If you need financial aid to help meet college costs, you are very likely to receive it.

Step 1

Check with each college's financial aid office to determine which forms you need to file to be considered for all types of financial aid. Every college is different. Get your PIN (Personal Identification Number). If you intend to file your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online (it's quicker), you and your parent(s) (if you are a dependent student) must apply for a PIN, which serves as your electronic signature for the FAFSA on the Web. For more information, visit www.pin.ed.gov. Don't wait to be accepted to a college before filing an application for financial aid. File as early as possible.

The most important financial aid application forms are:

- FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) – Everyone applying for federal and most other financial aid must complete this free form. File online at www.fafsa.ed.gov or by mail. To request a paper FAFSA, call 1.800.4.FED.AID.
- NYS TAP Application – NYS residents attending a college in NYS use this free form with the FAFSA to apply for a NYS TAP grant and to request payment of NYS scholarship awards. Complete the online TAP application by linking to it directly from your FAFSA Confirmation Page. Even if you use a paper FAFSA, you can still do your TAP application online. You will be prompted to get a NYS HESC PIN (Personal Identification Number) to "sign" your online TAP application. If you don't apply for TAP online you can request an Express TAP Application (ETA) by contacting the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation (HESC) at www.hesc.ny.gov or by calling 1.888.NYS.HESC. HESC is the state agency that processes the TAP application. The ETA will be pre-filled with information from your FAFSA. If you provide your email address on your FAFSA, HESC will be able to process your TAP application faster. If no email is provided, you will be notified by letter.

- PROFILE – Some colleges may ask you to file the CSS Financial Aid PROFILE form to be considered for college-funded aid (the college's own grants and scholarships). Visit <http://student.collegeboard.org/CSS-financial-aid-profile>. There is a fee for filing this form.
- College-specific financial aid application – Some colleges may ask you to complete the college's own financial aid application to be considered for their college-funded grants, scholarships and loans. Check with each college for applications, requirements and deadlines.

Step 2

Complete and mail the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1 (of your senior year in high school) to ensure that you're considered for all available funding. If your family hasn't yet completed its income tax returns, estimate your family's income as accurately as possible (from end-of-year pay stubs or W-2 forms). You'll have the opportunity to make corrections later in the process. If you're a NYS resident applying to colleges in the state, make sure you include a New York college on your FAFSA to begin application for a NYS TAP grant. Complete any other financial aid forms required by the colleges. It is very important to meet all deadlines and to keep a copy of all the forms you file.

By filing the FAFSA, you will be considered for:

- Grants and scholarships from private colleges and universities (some colleges may require an additional form)
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Work-Study (FWS)
- Job programs from private colleges and universities
- Federal Perkins Loan
- Federal Direct Loan

Step 3

You will receive your Federal Student Aid Report (SAR) via email after submitting your FAFSA on the Web (recommended). If you file the FAFSA by mail, you will receive your SAR in approximately 30 days. A paper SAR acknowledgment will be sent if a valid email address is not provided. Review your SAR's information carefully. Follow the directions to correct any errors.

Step 4

In the spring (usually March or April), you'll receive financial aid "awards" or "packages" from the colleges that have offered you admission, each with a different combination of grants, scholarships, work-study and loans to help you meet college expenses. Determine your "net cost" by subtracting from tuition and fees and room and board (if you're living on campus) all grants and scholarships plus the total amount of your student loans.

Step 5

Review your financial aid award letters and compare your net costs. Decide which college to attend and let the college know by the deadline they have indicated – usually by May 1. Then, review your financial aid with your chosen college. In particular:

- If federal student loans are part of your package, the college will send instructions about the loan application process. You will need to complete and sign a form called the Master Promissory Note (MPN) in order to receive federal student loans (e.g., Direct Loan funds). Keep track of how much you are borrowing and the loan repayment terms and conditions.
- NYS students attending college in the state: Follow up on your NYS Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grant. Visit www.hesc.ny.gov to review, and if necessary, correct the data on your TAP application.

Step 6

Make sure you know what you need to do to keep your financial aid, such as required grades and coursework. And, you must apply to renew your financial aid each year – on time – or risk losing it! Check your college's deadlines.

College Terminology

Annual College Costs - includes tuition, fees, room, board, books, transportation, and personal expenses. These costs vary from college to college.

Associate - degree awarded on completion of a 2-year (usually) program of study.

Bachelor's - (baccalaureate) degree awarded on completion of a 4-year (usually) program of study.

Common Application - a number of colleges accept the same application, called the Common Application. Check with the college.

Early Action - a non-binding early application process allowing students to learn the admission decision before the official candidate notification date.

Early Decision - a binding early application process. Students are notified of acceptance and are expected to commit to enrollment before regular applicants.

Financial Aid - aid to assist in meeting college costs which may be in the form of grants, scholarships, loans, or work-study. Always meet these application deadlines. See pages 8-10 for more information about financial aid.

First Professional - study that culminates in a degree and license in a profession such as law, medicine, etc.

Graduate and Professional Students - those working toward a master's, doctorate, post-graduate certificate, or professional license.

Interview - a conversation with a college admission or faculty representative, or with alumni.

Master's and Doctorates - advanced degrees awarded for completion of additional study beyond a bachelor's (4-year) degree.

Recommendation - a written assessment of the student's aptitudes, abilities and interests written by a teacher, counselor, coach, etc.

Rolling Admission - an institution reviews applications as they are received and offers a decision to students as applications are reviewed.

Room and Board - college housing and meal plans (often several options are available).

SAT and the ACT - standardized tests that measure verbal and math proficiency used by some colleges as one variable to predict the likelihood of a student's success in their college.

SAT Subject Tests - subject-specific exams required for admission by many colleges [e.g., English (literature), history and social studies (U.S. History and World History), math (Level 1 or Level 2), science (Biology E/M, Chemistry, Physics), languages (Chinese, French, German, Spanish, Modern Hebrew, Italian, Latin, Japanese and Korean)].

Undergraduate Student - one working toward a 2-year (associate) or a 4-year (bachelor's) degree.

There's one for you!

The best way to learn more about a college is to ask questions.

Call, write, or e-mail the campus admission staff, then plan a visit.

See the Campus Profiles or contact information on pages 4-7 to request information and obtain applications from the colleges. Or, visit New York's independent (private, not-for-profit) colleges and universities' admission and financial aid website, www.nycolleges.org.

Maybe you have a very specific academic interest. Perhaps you're still searching. Either way, there's a New York State private college or university that's right for you.

Calendar

For students entering college in the 2014-15 academic year

2014

Summer-Fall

- Colleges encourage visits from students and their parents/guardians. It's your chance to "try on" a campus. Use the map on pages 4-7 to plan your trips. Also ask your school counselor about college fairs in your area. College fairs offer good opportunities to talk with college representatives and start to build relationships.
- Make your list of colleges you will apply to and details on their application process (online or by mail). Be sure to keep track of each college's admission and financial aid deadlines!
- Ask your teachers and others for the letters of recommendation you need for your admission applications.

Aug. 8:	Registration deadline for Sep. 13 ACT.
Sep. 13:	ACT test date.
Sep. 19:	Registration deadline for Oct. 25 ACT.
Oct. 11*:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Oct. 15:	PSAT/NMSQT test date.
Oct. 18:	PSAT/NMSQT test date.
Oct. 25:	ACT test date.

November and December

- Explore all financial aid sources, including scholarships from local businesses, organizations, employers, churches, etc. Ask for help at your public library and guidance/college office. Attend financial aid workshops and college fairs. See page 11 for helpful web addresses.
- Continue completing your college applications. Pay careful attention to the deadlines!
- If you plan on completing the FAFSA online (recommended), get a federal student aid PIN for you and your parents at www.pin.ed.gov. Obtain the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) worksheet from your school counselor or online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Check with all the colleges to which you are applying to determine if there are other financial aid forms you must complete to qualify for all types of aid. Obtain all required forms.

Nov. 7:	Registration deadline for Dec. 13 ACT.
Nov. 8*:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Dec. 6*:	SAT & Subject Tests date.
Dec. 13:	ACT test date.

2015

January

- Attend local college financial aid awareness activities and workshops.
 - As soon as possible after January 1, complete and mail your FAFSA, or complete it online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Estimate your income if you have not yet completed your tax returns. Keep a copy of all the forms you file. Complete and submit all other required financial aid forms. Watch your deadlines! You'll receive your Student Aid Report (SAR) within four weeks after filing your FAFSA by mail; sooner if you complete it online. Review your SAR carefully. Follow directions to correct errors.
- | | |
|-----------|--|
| Jan. 9: | Registration deadline for Feb. 7 ACT—Outside NYS only. |
| Jan. 24*: | SAT & Subject Tests date. |

February and March

- If you have not already done so, visit the colleges on your list.
 - Start to look for a summer job.
 - In March, many colleges will begin to notify students of college acceptance. See April for more information.
 - New York State students who file the FAFSA online may apply for a Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grant online by linking to it directly from your FAFSA confirmation page. For more information about applying for TAP, call 1-888-NYSHESC.
- | | |
|-----------|--|
| Feb. 7: | ACT test date—Outside NYS only. |
| Mar. 13: | Registration deadline for Apr. 18 ACT. |
| Mar. 14*: | SAT only test date. |

April

- Colleges with traditional admissions and financial aid deadlines will notify you of college acceptance and financial aid packages. Evaluate the offers. Notify all the colleges of your decision or request an extension, usually by May 1. Pay attention to those deadlines!
 - If you still wish to expand your options, some colleges will accept admissions and financial aid applications at this time. See the Campus Profiles on pages 14-30 or www.nycolleges.org/view-college-information for college contact information.
- | | |
|----------|----------------|
| Apr. 18: | ACT test date. |

May and June

- May 1 is the traditional deadline for students to notify colleges of their college choice. If you decline admission and have received an aid package, notify the college financial aid office so it can offer the award to another student.
 - NYS residents applying for TAP: If you applied by mail, review, correct and return your Express TAP Application (ETA) to HESC. Be sure your TAP Award Certificate contains the code for the college you will attend. Check your email for correspondence from HESC about your TAP award. If you decide to attend a college in New York State, review your TAP application information and provide additional information, or make corrections if needed, or if requested by HESC. Visit www.hesc.ny.gov for more information, or call 1-888-NYSHESC.
 - Follow up on the progress of your grants, scholarships, loans, work-study and other forms of student aid.
- | | |
|------------------|--|
| May 2*: | SAT & SAT Subject Tests date. |
| May 4–8 & 11–15: | Advanced Placement Program® Exams. |
| May 8: | Registration deadline for Jun. 13 ACT. |

| Jun. 13: | ACT test date. |
- Don't forget to send thank-you notes to all who helped you through the college search.
